

Jobs Abroad for Pre-school and Early Years Staff

Over the past 10 years there has been a tremendous surge in the number of private international schools abroad. This is not only because of the number of expatriates abroad who want a private education for their children, but also because more and more affluent local parents want their children to have a western-style education in English with an eye to attend university abroad. These are all very motivated parents who are willing to pay for their children to have the best start in life.

The number of pre-schools and primary schools abroad has far outstripped the number of other types of schools opening up a wealth of opportunities for experienced Directors, Early Years Teachers and even Nursery Nurses abroad. These are very exclusive posts, offering candidates the possibility to live and work in exciting parts of the world such as Abu Dhabi, Italy, Singapore, India and China, enjoying excellent benefits and comprehensive employment packages.
